Propane leak blamed for fatal explosion

By Janice Harrington

A leaky propane tank is being blamed for an explosion and fire which killed a retired farmer and injured his wife late Friday night.

Didsbury RCMP said a subsequent investigation of the fire scene with Red Deer fire investigators showed the explosion which destroyed the house 8 km southwest of Didsbury had been caused by a leak in an unused propane tank located beside the home.

The explosion rocked the quiet countryside, jolting neighbors out of bed shortly after 11 p.m. on Friday. The home, owned by Cecil and Ebba Weber, was completely destroyed by the explosion and resulting fire. Both Webers had been home at the time of the accident. Didsbury RCMP said Ebba had been blown clear of the house, suffering cuts and other injuries. She was taken to Mountain View Health Care Centre for treatment. Cecil Weber is still missing, although a body found in the house is believed to be his. RCMP are awaiting from the Medical Examiners office for positive identification.

In Didsbury, shocked friends and neighbors of the Webers have been pulling together to support the family. Tom Hilchie, Assistant Pastor of the Didsbury Missionary Church which both Ebba and Cecil attended, said he has been impressed by the response.

"The response has been super, people have been phoning and friends have been taking the family in," he said. "These are some of the things that they really need right now."

Hilchie said the church has given the family $500 for now to buy new clothes for Ebba from an established church emergency fund. Money and donated household goods have also been collected but Hilchie said a formal collection will not be organized until more information about the Weber's insurance policy is available.

"We want to wait and see what the insurance is going to do," he said. "We don't want to take advantage of people's generosity right now and collect things they may not need or be able to use. We want to do what the best thing is and the most helpful thing is. Right now what they need more than anything is moral support and prayers."

Hilchie said the church is committed to helping the Webers in the short term and will make a more specific plan once more details are collected.

A funeral for Cecil Weber is planned for this afternoon at 1:30 p.m. at the Didsbury Missionary Church.

Big news this week is the resignation of Don Getty. Mr. Getty has been Premier of Alberta for seven years and a member of Alberta's Conservative government for a total of 25 years. His resignation came as a complete surprise to this constituents, the general public, the media and most of the cabinet. His reasons for leaving are personal and based mainly on a desire for some private life, some family time, a chance to do something else with his life. That's what he says, that's what I choose to believe.

Within minutes of the announcement, reports were doing street interviews in our major cities, swarming his Stettler riding and thrusting their microphones into the faces of combining farmers and coffee shop customers. Phone-in shows had only one topic and at about 12 to 1 the good and loyal citizens of Alberta said things like, "about time", "good thing", "I'm delighted", "that's great news."

How silly. How can anyone imagine that the resignation of one man, especially one man who is the Premier of a Canadian prairie province, will make one speck of difference in the overall scheme of things. It is true that the Conservatives took over a debt free province and that now we owe billions, but that didn't happen just in the last 7 years. It's true that dreadful mistakes have been made and one doesn't have to be terribly aware politically to remember NovAtel, P.W.A., the Pocklington fiasco, and the Principal Affair, but much of that is Lougheed Legacy. It is true that some Alberta environmentalists consider these last years to have been a disaster, but if the Old Man Dam is a mistake and the pulp mills a catastrophe, can we in all conscience lay the blame on Don Getty and more to the point, what makes people imagine that his resignation improve our economic situation? Will it create jobs for the unemployed? Get people off of welfare? Find markets for recycled products? Keep dropouts in school? Fund women's shelters? Clean up the justice system? Get real.

I guess it is human nature to want to blame someone and certainly someone must take ultimate responsibility, so I guess it's natural to blame the Premier, but I'm not convinced that this is fair. I think we must all take some responsibility and I think that we must face the fact that one man or even one party can't right all wrongs, can't cure all ills.

Every person whom I know, who took a position of authority, did so with the hope of making things better. Practically every one of them was hailed as a saviour when they began and vilified as a scoundrel during their tenure. We do this to our leaders and most especially to our political leaders. I don't know why anybody takes an office in Canada. It's a sure road to public crucifixion and personal torment. One would have to be very dedicated and very tough to survive at all.

I don't know Don Getty but I want to believe that he is a decent human being. I've never spoken to him, never so much as exchanged a wave with him but I know (with varying degrees of intimacy) Roy Brassard, Connie Osterman, Bob Clark, Grant McEwan, my dad—Glen Johnston (who was an M.L.A. for 15 years) and my brother Dale (who recently became a Reform candidate). These are all decent people whose main interest was or is in improving the world they and their children inhabit. All of them, given half a chance, will do the best they can. None of them deserve to be branded as opportunists or scoundrels.

There is a little underground movement afoot. It is called, "Practise random kindness and senseless acts of beauty." I think it is a wonderful idea and maybe if each of us would try it the world would become a better place. Today instead of cursing the darkness, try praising the light, instead of dwelling on our injustices, be grateful that you're not a refugee from some ghastly ethnic cleansing or picking up after Hurricane Andrew. Take some soup to a shut-in, phone a new neighbor, hug your kid, offer to shop for the new mom across the street. And maybe you could even send a little note of encouragement to Don Getty.

Getty resignation called timely

By Janice Harrington

Last week's announcement of the resignation of Premier Don Getty is being called timely by local provincial politicians.

Both Conservative MLA Roy Brassard and his Liberal opponent Donna Gole agree the retirement announcement came at the right time.

Brassard, who is also Minister Responsible for Seniors, said he respects the Premier's decision to step down.

"I suppose it is time," he said. "I think that man has had more pressure put on him than anyone I have ever seen before. I do have to honestly say that it is unfortunate that the Don Getty I know from caucus and meetings is not the same Don Getty that has been portrayed in the media."

Brassard said he believes the resignation announcement came at the right time to help bolster the lagging popularity of the provincial Conservative party.

"We need a leader that's full of energy and I think the resurgence in the party will help give it a fresh outlook," he said. "I think it will help that the party is looking for a new vision. There is a perception out there, people are looking in a new direction. I think this change will be good for our party."

But Gole, recently elected as the Liberal candidate of the Olds/Didsbury seat, does not believe a simple change in the leadership will save the Tory government.

"I'm not sure his replacement will be able to change the momentum of the province," she said. "People are looking for more honesty and accountability. The Liberals are already ahead in the polls and I think it's going to take more than one man to change that."

Both Gole and Brassard also agree that while Getty has suffered from a number of difficulties since taking over the Tory leadership from Peter Lougheed in 1985, he has managed to successfully reach one goal.

"I think he finished what he set out to do," said Brassard. "A year ago, who would have ever thought that Ontario or Quebec would agree to an equal number of seats in a new Senate. Yet he managed to persuade them."

Getty's resignation leaves a wide space for a new leader to take over. No obvious candidates are in the forefront, but speculation continues. Brassard said he is not aware of any names he would like to support as of yet, but does speculate that a provincial election will probably be called by June of 1993.

Didsburians head for war again

By Janice Harrington

More present and former town residents will again face war as they are shipped out to the war-torn country formerly known as Yugoslavia.

Three Didsburians will be sent off somewhere within the fighting countries of Serbia and Croatia as part of peace keeping forces organized by the Canadian Military and the United Nations.

Ted McCreary, a constable with the Didsbury RCMP detachment for the past 6 years, will be the first from Didsbury to be shipped overseas. McCreary, who has been with the RCMP for 18 years, was one of 7 officers from Alberta chosen to become part of the United Nations' forces.

"This is a UN thing through the RCMP although it really doesn't have much to do with the RCMP," he said. "It's more of a peace keeping thing. I know there isn't going to be any fighting, but other than that, I'm not really sure what we are going to do."

McCreary leaves Didsbury this Saturday for Ottawa where he and the other 6 RCMP officers from around Alberta will be briefed before they are shipped out. He will spend the next 8 months in Yugoslavia before returning to the province.

"I really wanted to do this," he said. "I get the travel experience and if I can make any kind of a contribution I will. I look at it as more of an adventure than of going to work. I've never been to war before. I'm also sure that I will come home with a greater appreciation of Canada than when I left."

"The only bad part about all of this is that I am subject to transfer anywhere in Alberta when I get back," McCreary added. "I'm really hoping I get to come back here."

Two other former residents, whose families still reside in Didsbury, are also awaiting final orders to ship out to Croatia. Todd Carstairs and Calvin Koch, both with the military, are expected to leave sometime later this month or in early October.

This will be the second time Carstairs' mother, Town Councillor Marjorie Malinowski, will wave her son off to war. And this time, as last time, she wants to ensure that her son and the others being sent over, retain their ties to home.

"I'm going to be starting off a letter writing campaign again," Malinowski said. "I originally got the idea during the Gulf Crisis as I was watching Good Morning America. There were 2 retired Marines on and they were talking about how important it was to them to get letters from home."

Malinowski said the last effort received a tremendous response and she hopes the same will happen again with the new troops about to be sent.

"Todd has told me that it is a really lonely time to be out on manoeuvres and not know what is going on in the world and at home, so I really hope people get involved and write to anyone over there. It's really so rewarding."

Malinowski said letters to soldiers can be sent two ways; by sending the letter postage-free through your Member of Parliament or by sending a stamped letter to: Canadian Soldiers, Canadian Contingent, CFPO 5003, Bellville, Ontario, K0K 3R0.

"It's not easy to write to someone you don't know," said Malinowski. "But it really does get easier as you do it. I just made sure I kept up on all the provincial and federal news and wrote about that. It's also a good opportunity to ask questions about what is going on over there."

Fire box proposal made

By Janice Harrington

A proposal to equip all county schools with fire boxes has been made by the Mountain View Fire Protection Committee.

John Whitesell, Chairman of the MVFPC and Chief of the Sundre Fire Department made the proposal at the last county school board meeting.

The boxes, unmarked, tamperproof and bolted to the wall, holds a key which allows fire personnel access to the school should a fire alarm sound. The boxes can only be opened by one key which can not be duplicated.

Whitesell said using the boxes could help save time and damage to county school buildings, but while school trustees agreed on the benefits of the boxes they were concerned about the possible security risks. The school board decided to look further into the matter and reconsider the proposal at the next meeting.

Lost straw

A straying spark caught these straw bales on fire on Dave Mailer's farm north of Didsbury. Heavy smoke from the fire obscured vision along the roads. Damage was estimated at around $6,000.

OPINIONS/EDITORIAL

Write a letter

By Janice Harrington

The opportunity to write letters to soldiers stationed in the war-torn countries of Croatia and Serbia is something no one should miss. Learning first hand about what is going on in a country embroiled in a civil conflict such as in the former Yugoslavia can show us exactly how valuable our own country is and it will also help to keep our soldiers in touch with a real, more stable world.

Having that kind of personal involvement in such a horrific event is also a way to keep us in touch with the problems right here at home. The conflict that rages in Yugoslavia has gone on for thousands of years, as it has in Ireland, and while it may seem unlike anything that has happened in Canada, it does give us another perspective on the aboriginal situation and the potential conflict that is brewing between western and eastern Canada.

Canadians may not believe that Canada could be reduced to such an intense regional hatred but the conflicts we see around the world these days have started in much the same manner; regionalism that grew to fanaticism.

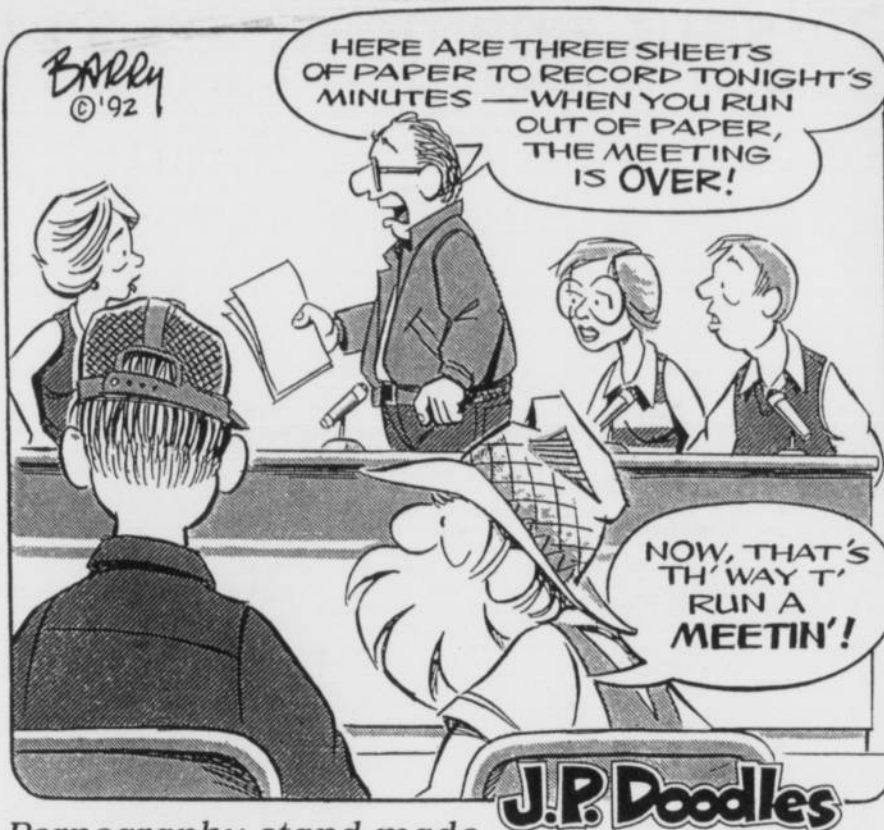

In this age of electronic media and exaggerated movie plots, having a real-life, up front view of what is going on is a valuable resource. Teachers are jumping at the chance to get their students involved. What better way to learn?

But besides rewarding yourself by sitting down to write, you can also make the day of a soldier who feels completely out of touch with his or her own world. Being almost alone in a shell shocked country far from home is a hard way to live, just ask any veteran. Just a touch of local news, of mundane events can make a soldier remember exactly what they are there for.

So write a letter, get your kids to write letters. Talk to the soldiers about the sights they are seeing and learn from other people's mistakes. It will help to remind them of home and the sanity here while teaching us about the insanity of war there.

Pornography stand made

Dear Editor:

All Albertans have been outraged by the recent heinous murder of the most vulnerable of all—deaf-5-year-old Shannon Morrisette, who was sexually assaulted, strangled and stabbed in Calgary. This incident follows closely after the shocking, shameful case of 3½-year-old Mandy Tremblay of Edmonton, who was abducted, assaulted sexually and left for dead as recently as June. Sexual assaults rose 144% between 1981 and 1990 (Stats Canada).

As child abduction becomes commonplace, parents have qualms about even allowing their children outdoors to play. Kindergarten children are being taught to demand a secret "code" word in a feeble attempt to help them survive. "Sexual assaults of children have become a plague," ruled the Alta. Appeal Court, as it set up tough new sentences for child sex abusers, (Journal, July 3).

It is excellent that such action is being taken, but, along with treating the symptoms, why don't we look at preventative measures against sexual mistreatment of children as well. Many qualified professionals are linking pornography to sexual violence. Highly respected psychologist, Dr. James Dobson, proved that, for certain men, pornography is addictive much like alcohol or drugs.

It is noteworthy that in Oklahoma County, U.S. since more than 150 sex-oriented businesses were closed down by the County District Attorney's office in 1983, there has been a 46.8% difference in the number of rapes and sexual assaults committed there (Okla. Bureau of Investigation).

Compare this with what our government is doing here. In Alberta hundreds of the youth are allowed to indecently expose themselves in public—all the way from Peace River to Lethbridge 12-14 hours a day, 7 days a week for big bucks. The family oriented Getty government bowed to profiteers in the alcohol trade to rule recently it will continue to license live porno as a marketing tool for booze in bars despite the fact that nudity plus booze spells danger.

Alberta is being over-run with sleazy con-artists who have received the green light to profiteer from obscenity. We are flooded with smut in porno magazines, x-rated movies and videos and defy description. Some of the cubicles featuring peep-shows supply pots for men to ejaculate into.

Our family oriented Don Getty government should realize no stone should be left unturned when dealing with any measure that could increase the safety of our children. The rights of con-artists to profiteer from obscenity shouldn't be given precedence over the rights our children should have to protection from the harmful results that could arise therefrom.

Stettler, AB

Labor dispute disclosed

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter to inform you of the labor dispute happening in Yellowknife, NWT at the Royal Oak Mines Inc. - Giant Division.

It's important for the people of Canada, to be aware that Giant Mine and Royal Oak Mines are the same operation. There are rumors from former residents of Elliot Lake and Sudbury, Ontario that people are accepting work at Royal Oak Mine thinking that it is a new mine opening in Yellowknife, NWT. This is not true, people are being misled. Some people from Elliot Lake have been told they are being hired to work at Lupin Mine farther north of Yellowknife. After the Replacement Workers arrive they are told Royal Oak is their place of work. These individuals are not aware of the labor dispute that currently exists. The Replacement Workers have signed a six week contract and after they arrive there is no recourse, and they have to work or find their own way home.

People of your province are being brought into this situation by Royal Oak's Peggy Witte who is trying to wage war between the unemployed against the employed people of this country.

Please help us make all the people of Canada aware that Royal Oak Mine Inc. is in a labor dispute, and that Giant Mine is the same operation. If you have any questions please contact the CASAW Local #4 executive at 403-873-5192.

Thank you for your anticipated interest in this matter.

Report from the Legislature

Hon. Roy Brassard, MLA
Olds-Didsbury Constituency

Much of the constitution discussion that has taken place relates to the revised Senate, as does much of the confusion! In my previous column on this issue, I mentioned that a truly effective Senate should be able to block all Federal legislation. That was never the intent. I don't believe Albertans want to prevent our democratically elected government from governing Canada. What they did want is a Senate based on the principles of Equal, Elected, Effective.

If the Senate is to be Equal regardless of the size of the province, then the House of Commons must reflect representation by population. There is little, if any, dispute with the new Senate's Equality, or for that matter, that all seats will be Elected. The bulk of the confusion surrounds its ability to be Effective. Let me offer the following:

The Senate, by a simple majority vote (50% + 1) can veto any House of Commons legislation that changes taxation affecting natural resources. This is not just oil and gas,—but all natural resources—the lifeblood of Alberta. In reality, 62 Senators will balance 337 members of the House of Commons. That is effective!

By a simple majority (50% + 1) the Senate can veto important federal appointments to national institutions, such as the Bank of Canada, The C.R.T.C., the Canadian Transportation Board, the Canadian Wheat Board, etc. That is effective!

By a simple majority (50% + 1) the Senate can prevent any House Of Commons legislation from becoming law without careful scrutiny and consideration. A review of the legislation, a reconciliation process, joint session of the House of Commons and the Senate which will receive unprecedented national attention, and finally, a vote in a joint session must occur before legislation can proceed. A true house of sober second thought—that is effective!

The Senate can initiate and pass legislation (such as a Young Offenders Act) that will become law—unless the House of Commons defeats it by a majority vote. If defeated in the House of Commons, it is subject to the entire joint session process outlined above. This is effective power!

Committees formed within Senate will be in a position to scrutinize, investigate and review any national issue they wish, and make recommendations that will influence national opinion. And remember 80% of these committee members will not be from Ontario or Quebec. This is in the case of a minority government, the Senate will quite literally hold the balance of power with their ability to force a joint session on any issue as outlined above. This is effective power!

The new reformed Senate forever changes national decision making. It provides balance in our country. For the first time ever, a province such as Prince Edward Island can speak as loudly as Ontario on issues that affect them. This Senate will indeed be effective!

One final comment, —an additional, special, Canada-wide redistribution of seats will be conducted following the 1996 Census, aimed at insuring that no province will have fewer than 95% of the House of Commons seats it would receive under strict representation-by-population.

I have copies of the actual Consensus Report of the Constitution—final text as agreed to in Charlottetown, and I would be pleased to send you a copy. Just phone our Constituency office at 556-3132 or my office in Edmonton at 422-0141 (Collect).

MP's column

Canadian Experts
By Louise Feltham, MP
Wildrose Constituency

Canadian know-how is spreading around the world. With fewer trade barriers, Canadian experts are selling their services and helping to build a prosperous Canada.

*In May, I went to Sundre to meet the people at Trisol Inc. I was impressed with their success in patenting a fire retardant chemical which has the potential to improve safety in the oilfield. It will be marketed in the U.S.

and Canada.

*Three Calgary firms will conduct a technical seminar in Beijing to teach the Chinese how to explore for gas and manage reservoirs. (Calgary Herald, August 13, 1992).

*Nowco Pipeline Surveys & Services, of Calgary, invented a device to monitor oil pipelines. The gadget is called "Geopig"; it uses special software to detect problems with oil pipelines. The company supplies 25% of the U.S. market. Last year, company staff inspected pipelines in China, Thailand, Britain and Japan. (Ottawa Citizen, August 31, 1992).

*Even small ideas can turn into a big success—the biggest-selling imported gourmet mustard in the U.S. is made in Canada by Stone County Specialties. (Toronto Star, August 31, 1992).

We have a plan to build a strong and prosperous Canada. It is based on our confidence that Canada can take on the world and win. Canadians are doing just that!

Special horse show planned

The Alberta Handicapped Horse Show sponsored by the Mount View Handicapped Riding Association and the Olds Ag Society will be held Sept. 19 at the Olds Cow Palace. The show will run from 9:00 a.m. to approximately 3:00 p.m.

This show provides handicapped riders from all over Alberta the chance to compete against each other and to show their skills they have learned in a horse show that has many of the same rules and regulations of the standard horse show. The riders who participate in this show are individuals who have a handicap of any kind, some are physically handicapped in some way and other riders may be developmentally delayed or mentally handicapped. The classes are set up to the riders abilities and include many fun classes such as the Best Dressed Horse and the Egg and Spoon race.

This is the 7th year that the Mount View Handicapped Riding Association and the Olds Ag Society have sponsored the horse show and this is the 10th anniversary of the Riding Association. The volunteers who run this association are very dedicated individuals who put a lot of time and effort into this program. Without their efforts, this Association would not have grown, and they all deserve a great deal of credit.

This year the concession will be a joint effort between the Mount View Handicapped Riding Association and the Mountain View Association for the Mentally Handicapped work program. The menu will be hamburgers, salads, vegetable plates, coffee, tea, and pop. There will also be muffins and coffee or tea available throughout the morning all at a reasonable price. If any one would like to see a unique horse show and a great many smiling faces come and join the spectators at the horse show.

Wheat tests offered

The Canadian Grain Commission has announced that it has agreed to test producers' wheat samples for protein content in conjunction with the recently announced Canadian Wheat Board contract program for high-grade high-protein spring wheat.

Producers who believe their wheat may qualify for a high protein premium may submit their sample(s) directly to the Commission's Inspection Division for testing at cost.

As protein is not an official grade-determining factor, the Canadian Grain Commission charges a fee of $9.63 for protein testing for this program.

Sample submission instructions:

1. Sample size required: 150 grams (clean representative sample);

2. Samples must be accompanied by payment of $9.63 ($9.00 + $0.63 GST) per sample, payable to the Receiver General for Canada.

3. Samples must be sent to: Canadian Grain Commission, High Protein Program, 844 - 303 Main Street, Winnipeg, Manitoba, R3C 3G8.

4. Please include the following information: Name, Permit Number, Address and Postal Code.

5. Results of the protein tests will be mailed to the applicant.

The Commission continues to provide a free grading service to producers who submit samples for grade, dockage, and/or moisture analysis.

Grade and protein advice provided to producers by the Commission reflects only the quality of the sample submitted; care should be taken to ensure the sample is truly representative of the bin.

Local cheese wins gold medal

By Janice Harrington

Local cheese makers Neapolis Dairy Products are winning rave reviews for a new product scheduled to hit the market this month.

A new double cream brie, which part owner Bruce Engel said should hit the store shelves by the end of September, was recently awarded a gold medal at the Pacific National Exhibition in Vancouver.

"We are trying to take the market away from French bries in the supermarkets," said Engel. "So we are really pleased to win this. Having the gold medal will make things a little bit easier when we go to market it."

Neapolis Dairy Products Ltd. has been making cheese in the Lone Pine area since 1961. Engel said the new double cream brie, which will be called Omega, is the only one to be made west of Quebec.

"We have always concentrated on specialty products," he said. "We want to make our own little niche in the market."

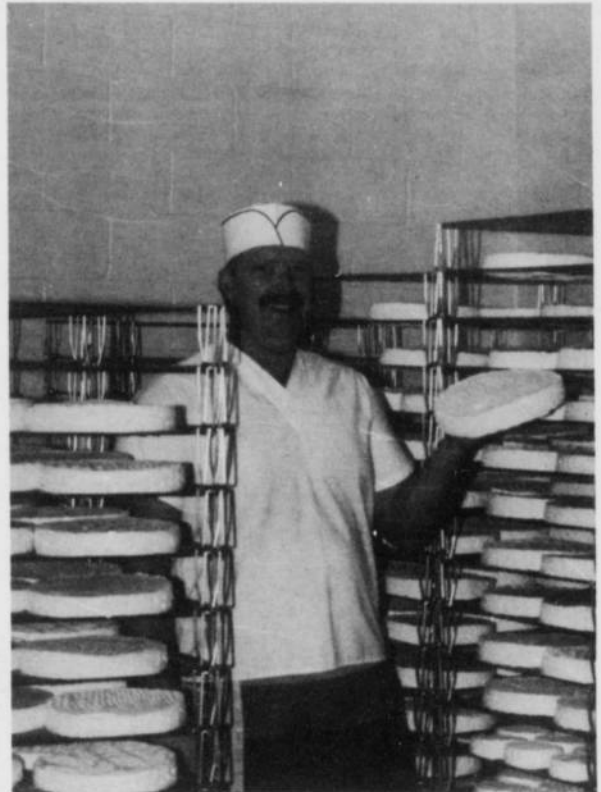

Neapolis products include a single cream brie, camembert, limburger, quark and Parisee cream cheese.

The new double cream brie is made by adding more cream. Engel said the company flew a cheesemaker from Denmark over to show them how it was done.

Currently, Engel said the company is working on packaging sizes for the new cheese before it will be shipped to the grocery stores. Neapolis is also busy entering the cheese in other national cheese competitions.

"Having another gold medal when you compete with all the cheeses from across Canada certainly doesn't hurt," he said.

CMHC forecasts steady housing recovery

Total national housing starts are forecast to reach 167,000 units this year and increase further to 187,000 units in 1993, according to Canada Mortgage and Housing Corporation's third quarter National Housing Outlook, released recently.

"Activity on the new and existing market will improve in response to the lowest interest rates in more than 20 years, and to the two federal housing programs supporting home ownership," explained Gilles Proulx, Chief economist at CMHC's Market Analysis Centre.

"The improvement, however, will be subdued, reflecting the gradual recovery in job markets and the economy, as well as special factors limiting activity in several provinces," added Proulx.

These factors include lower social housing activity in Ontario, a pent-up demand that is largely met in Quebec, lot supply constraints in B.C. and a weak Newfoundland economy.

Construction of single-detached dwellings is expected to rise by 5.7 per cent to 91,500 units this year and by 19.1 per cent to 109,000 units in 1993. Multiple starts are expected to be up 8.4 per cent to 75,500 units in 1992 and 3.3 per cent to 78,000 units in 1993.

Provincial Highlights

British Columbia and the Prairie provinces will lead the housing recovery this year with construction activity up more than 20 per cent in all four provinces. At the same time, Quebec, Nova Scotia and Newfoundland will suffer drops of more than 10 per cent.

In 1993, Ontario, Nova Scotia and Manitoba will register increases of more than 15 per cent. Other provinces will show smaller increases except for Saskatchewan where a marginal decline is expected.

Resale Activity And House Price Forecast

The resale market should show moderate growth over the next 18 months. Sales of existing homes are expected to rise slightly by more than 5 per cent both in 1992 and 1993.

The gradual recovery and concentrated activity on the first-time home buyer market should result in only marginal price increases. Notable exceptions include B.C., where prices will rise by more than 10 per cent in both 1992 and 1993 due to supply constraints, and lower prices in Ontario and Newfoundland this year.

AGRICULTURAL NEWS

Flattened crops can be saved

Southern Alberta farmers, scrambling to find ways to effectively handle their snow flattened crops, can look north for tips says an Alberta Agriculture farm machinery engineer.

"Crops hit with heavy snow were left lying close to the ground, which can make cutting a nightmare," says Marshall Eliason. "Many of the special problems associated with cutting flattened crops are 'normal' for many northern Alberta producers."

Tips and tricks those northern producers have included in their cutting operations may help ease frustrations of the southern producers he adds. Experienced operators can adjust travel speed, reel speed, reel raker finger angle, table angle and draper speed to suit specific crop conditions.

"Travel speeds need to be considerable slower," says Eliason. "With a little care, crop losses need not be high in a flattened stand. Patience is the key to ensuring your losses are kept to a minimum."

As well, adding specialized equipment to swathers and combine tables will help effectively cut flattened, tangled and lodged crops. This includes pickup reels, lifter fingers, plastic-covered skid plates and cutterbars, power dividers and flexible cutterbars.

"While pickup reels offer the most advantages in handling a tangled crop, their availability will be at a premium given the number of producers now looking for them," he says.

Pickup reels are most effective when a crop is tangled with stems lying helter-skelter. Often with this type of lodging, the crop canopy is still tall enough for the reel fingers to work. Then, with the cutterbar close to the ground, a pickup reel can lift and move most of the crop to be cut.

However, he says, if the crop is uniformly flat in one direction, the pickup reel might not be able to pick up the crop, and lifter fingers are needed to lift the crop into the cutterbar.

Lifter fingers, placed every 12 to 16 inches along a cutterbar, can lift a completely flattened crop. They are most effective when cutting across or at an angle to the lean. Most equipment dealers carry them as a stock item, and they come in two types. Spring ones work well in most crops, while rigid fingers work well in viny crops such as peas and canola, and in muddy conditions.

When wet and muddy soil conditions come with flattened crops, adding Ultra High Molecular Weight Plastic (UHMWP) to the cutterbar and skid shoes will decrease mud and soil buildup. UHMWP is available from most plastic suppliers as well as some farm supply stores.

Handling viny crops may require two other types of special equipment: power dividers and flexible cutterbars. "Power dividers are a must," says Eliason. "They provide a vertical cutting action at the table edge allowing for faster travel speeds and reduced crop losses." If producers use only one power divider, they may need to switch from going back and forth across their fields, to going around he adds.

Flexible cutterbars help if pods are close to the ground. They have some flex that allows for a uniform contour cutting bar.

"You have to take care if you add lifters to a flexible cutter bar," he warns. "Stones and field surface variations can cause considerable damage if a lifter gouges and bends a flexible cutterbar."

While some of these pieces of specialized equipment are stocked by farm equipment dealers, availability may be limited. "Availability and price should both be considered before you make a purchase," he advises.

Guaranteed delivery contracts announced

The Canadian Wheat Board has announced a number of Guaranteed Delivery Contract Programs for farmers with higher grades of Red Spring Wheat, Red Winter Wheat and Durum.

The Board said that these contract programs are being implemented to secure supplies of high grade grain to take maximum advantage of market opportunities in the 1992-93 crop year. The Wheat Board expects that the unusually early frost and snow in Alberta and Saskatchewan recently, combined with the overall lateness of the crop, could result in a shortage of high grades of wheat and durum.

The grains involved in the Contract Programs being announced and the deadlines for applying are as follows:

Grain: CWRS Wheat, Contract: No. 1 CWRS 14.5% Protein, Deadline Date: Oct. 15, 1992; Grain: CWRS Wheat, Contract: No. CWRS 13.5% Protein, Deadline Date: Oct. 15, 1992; Grain: CWRS Wheat, Contract: No. 1 CWRS, Deadline Date: Oct. 15, 1992; Grain: CWAD Wheat* Contract: No. 1 & 2 CWAD, Deadline Date: Oct. 15, 1992; Grain: CWRW Wheat, Contract: No. 1 & 2 CWRW, Deadline Date: Oct. 1, 1992.

Contract participants will be required to assign one quota acre in their permit book for each tonne they wish to market through the contract program(s) they have chosen. Contracts received after the deadline will be considered on a first-come first-served basis until the Board has received the maximum tonnage for which it has requirements.

The total tonnage accepted by the Board for each program will be determined by market requirements. If applications exceed these requirements, producers will be advised of any proportionate reductions within 20 days of the application deadline.

Once contract tonnage is agreed upon, producers are assured that full delivery opportunity will be given during the crop year.

Producers who are unsure of the grade and protein of their Red Spring Wheat, and who wish to obtain a contract, may submit a representative sample to their grain company or directly to the Canadian Grain Commission. However, this is not a requirement to apply for a contract.

The Board has already mailed contract forms to all elevator managers for the 1 CWRS 14.5% protein program, the Durum program and the Red Winter Wheat program. These should be available to farmers at their local elevator early this week. Contract forms for the 1 CWRS 13.5% protein program and the 1 CWRW program will be available at elevators in approximately two weeks.

Art class encourages young Rembrandts

Parents take heed . . . that picture your youngster just scrawled all over the livingroom wall could be worth something someday!

Okay, so the crayon they used is more indelible than you thought. The real issue here is talent, not torment! That's the way Judi Samoisette sees children's art.

Judi operates the Country Studio, just south of Olds—a unique service where kids ages six to 18 years are welcome to explore their own creative abilities through art lessons. "Children have taught me so much through their work," says Samoisette; an experienced artist herself. "It's enjoyable to watch them work freely. Many times they don't want a lesson . . . they just want to sit in a quiet place and draw whatever comes to them."

Virtually every type of media is available for students to learn in Samoisette's studio. Everything from ink, pencil, paint, crayon, or chalk. "We do a lot of greeting cards. They're great for almost any occasion and you can do so many different versions of the same idea."

Samoisette understands the need to create, and the importance to nurture young talent. For five years she studied teaching and art through both her high school in Red Deer and the Christian Education Program at the Mountain View Bible College in Didsbury. "I got into teaching art classes for kids when a neighbor of mine had a son that just loved to draw. We got to talking about my background and decided it would be a good idea to bring him over once a week for drawing lessons. From there, it just seemed natural to open up my home teaching children how to develop themselves artistically."

But Samoisette's talent for understanding children stems equally from her own personal obligations. "I have three kids; one three years, one a year old and one 17 . . . they keep me very busy, but I think that if I didn't have some sort of outlet—like teaching art—I'd really be lost . . . it keeps me sane."

The price? In comparison to other after-school activities, Samoisette's comes in at a lean $10 per hour and a half session and includes materials.

"The object here is to just encourage the children to produce any type of art that they can be proud of. That's really all that matters."

Interested parents can find Samoisette by phoning 556-1047.

Cottage industry boosted through new program

The days of manufacturing and selling products directly from your home are back with the help of the Cottage Industries Program being offered through Olds College this fall.

"Cottage industries are popping up everywhere... the crafts and furnishings they produce are displayed at farmers markets and retail outlets throughout rural Alberta," says Extension Service's Program Coordinator, Chuck Howard.

The 12-week program being offered at Drumheller's Big Country Educational Consortium (B.C.E.C.) focuses on such popular craft projects and services as: - wreaths, - dried floral arrangements, - furnishings, - producing dried flowers, - home sewing, - and clothing alterations.

The attraction? "It's practicality and convenience, more than anything," Howard explains. "People have more enthusiasm and energy to give to their work when they are able to attack a project—especially one involving creativity—from their own homes."

Of course, being able to produce a quality product is only one ingredient needed to operate a successful cottage industry. Effective marketing and business skills are equally essential. "We try to touch on ways to promote each participant's craft by demonstrating effective advertising and market research techniques," Howard says. "Business-wise, we will provide information on purchasing supplies wholesale and how to keep accurate accounting records."

The Cottage Industries Program begins November 2; however applications for registration are encouraged in advance as space is limited. For more information, or to register, please contact the B.C.E.C. at (403) 823-3365 immediately.

abuse allegations denied

By Janice Harrington

Allegations of physical and verbal abuse in a Sundre seniors home have been denied by the home's administrative organization.

John Grimstead, Chairman of the Mount View Foundation which runs the Foothills Retreat in Sundre, said any allegations made have come out of personal problems.

"These allegations are totally unfounded," he said. "This basically comes from people in the lodges that perhaps do have a problem with depression and make mountains out of mole-hills."

Grimstead's denial of the allegations of abuse at the Sundre Lodge came after a Health Facilities Review Committee visited the seniors home last Wednesday. It was the second time the lodge had been investigated by the Committee since they received 28 complaints from residents and relatives last June.

Molly Warring, Vice Chairman of the Review Committee said the second visit was a followup to their first investigation.

"We did make recommendations to the Foundation after our first visit," Warring said. "The second visit was to see if those recommendations were followed."

The Health Facilities Review Committee was established in 1973 under a provincial act which empowers the committee to investigate long-term care hospitals and seniors lodges. Warring said routine reviews of homes are usually made every 16 to 18 months, although complaint investigations are generally given first priority.

Committee findings are only released to the foundations which run the homes.

But while Grimstead denies the allegations of abuse in the Foothills Retreat, he does admit there have been problems in the lodge.

"The board has tried to be objective about the recommendations we received from the review and we believe we have been able to address the shortcomings," he said. "They were largely house-keeping. But we also hired a person from Alberta Health to come in and do an independent review as well. We received her report August 20. Her survey showed numbers which would indicate not total satisfaction but almost."

Grimstead said the majority of complaints about abuse stem from some disgruntled employees as well from the emotionally charged problems which arise from his organizations trying to take care of elderly people beyond their mandate.

"We are struggling with the long-term care problems. People are getting older and more frail and they have no place to go so we try to accommodate them despite the fact that we are not equipped for it. We are not without some disgruntled people, but it is outside of our ability to cope with personal problems."

Carstairs pumpkin festival planned

Pumpkins in fields and gardens may have been ravaged by inclement weather this year--but the Carstairs eighth annual Pumpkin Festival will go ahead as usual on October 3rd at the Curling Rink.

Our condolences go out to all those who tried so hard to produce a big one--only to have the weather do away with their chances of winning a prize with a big pumpkin. However, there's going to be lots of opportunities for fun and prizes, even if your "big one" was lost to frost this year. You could always enter the "created" pumpkin class, and don't forget, there's a scarecrow competition too!

Whether you are entering any exhibits or not, you will have a fun and interesting day! There is no admission, although a donation at the door will be appreciated.

On Friday, October 2nd the Curling Rink will open from 7-9 p.m., to receive entries and to set up tables. On Saturday, October 3rd, the curling rink will open at 8:30 a.m. again to receive entries and or to set up tables. Judging will commence at 10:00 a.m. and doors will open to the public at 11 a.m.

The exciting Pentathlon will again be part of our program this year. Contestants, tested in a variety of ways pertaining to pumpkins will have an opportunity to collect points towards becoming the Pumpkin King and Pumpkin Queen.

There'll be a cake walk and other entertainment for kids; there'll be the Hi-land Swingers (a square dance troupe) and Brenda Cipperly will sing. You will also be entertained by Carstairs' own Kitchen Band.

Over the years, Marian Bateman of 2A Gas has donated very beautiful prizes. This year she will be on hand to present prizes to winners.

Don't forget to get your table for sale/display. There is a limit of only 25 tables, so get yours while there are still some available.

A good way to round out your day is to go to the Historical Society dinner in the Community Hall that evening. Fashions of yesteryear will be featured at a fashion show.

We'll see you at the Pumpkin Festival!

Kerby Dancers to entertain at seventh annual Pioneer Supper

Tax deferral announced for breeding livestock

Cattle producers in designated areas of southern Alberta and southwest Saskatchewan are eligible for a one-year tax deferral on 1992 income from drought-induced sales of breeding livestock.

The deferral, announced today by federal Agriculture Minister Bill McKnight, allows eligible producers to exclude part of the proceeds of breeding stock sales from their taxable income, for a period of one year. This will provide funds for the future replenishment of breeding stocks.

"The deferral will give assistance to owners of breeding livestock who are forced to sell all or part of their herd, because of drought conditions affecting feed and water supplies," Mr. McKnight said.

The designated areas were determined by soil moisture and water supply conditions during the 1992 growing season. Other areas of the Prairies are also being examined for drought conditions and may become eligible for the tax deferral.

Producers who took advantage of the deferral in 1991 may do so again in 1992, providing they still reside in an eligible farming area. In this case, the 1991 tax deferral may be extended for an additional year.

Eligible producers will be able to request this deferral when filing their 1992 tax returns, according to National Revenue Minister Otto Jelinek.

Interested livestock producers may contact their district taxation office to determine eligibility for the deferral program.

CREMONA/WATER VALLEY NEWS

Cremona Gold & Silver news

The wet weather brought an end to the farming activities and opened the way for a large crowd to enjoy the September potluck supper. It was nice to see everyone again.

Fall programs are gearing up. Bridge starts on Sept. 17 at 12:00 noon with everyone welcome. There will be special instruction for those who need it, so come along and give it a whirl. It's never too late to learn.

Carpet bowling will begin in earnest in mid-October but in the meantime the centre is open every Friday afternoon for coffee and visiting and bowling practice. Check your Gold and Silver monthly calendar for evening bowling. Tuesday is the usual day but it can vary.

The whist games have gone on throughout the summer and will continue on second, third and fourth Wednesdays starting at 8:00 p.m. More players are needed.

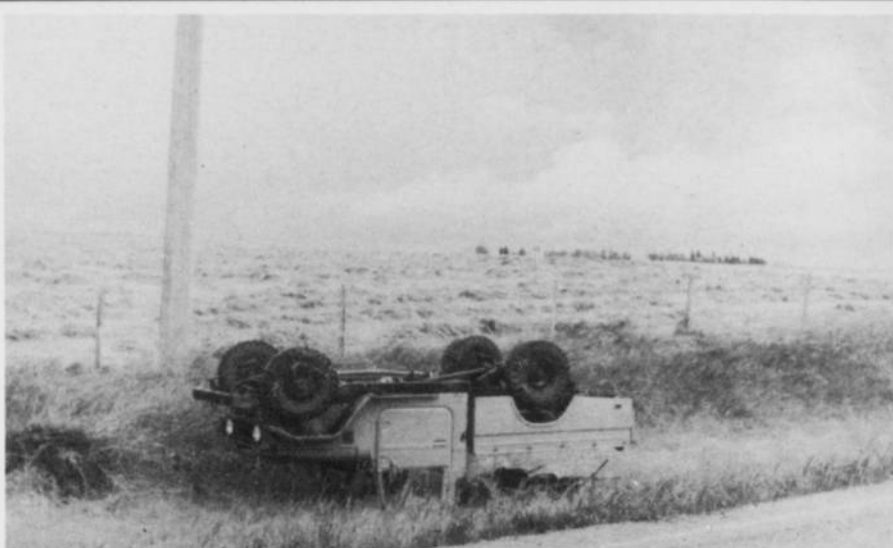

The bus trip to Spruce Meadows on Sept. 10 is the only one scheduled at the moment. The transportation grant for this year has been used up so there will be a fee charged for the use of the bus.

On Sept. 22, we will be serving morning coffee and muffins to a seniors' group from Red Deer. Drop in to welcome them and have a chat.

Toby Cantwell gave an excellent report on the Seniors Games at Medicine Hat. He and his wife represented the Cremona Gold and Silver Club when they participated in the swimming events. The meals, transportation and accommodation were all free, thanks mainly to the generosity of several corporations. The organizing committee had done a superb job and everything went off without a hitch. The snowstorm on the last day brought an unusual end to the festivities!

The birthday tea on Sept. 25th will be hosted by Kay Unger and the next potluck supper is on Oct. 1 at 6:00 p.m.

Didsbury High School notes

Dragons' Den

Yes, we are a bunch of happy campers at DHS! Indeed, Grade 9 camp last June was the 17th year of this great tradition. Other traditional student activities have begun or will soon.

Mr. Drever and Miss Baker have started practices for the senior volleyball teams (3 afternoons a week). Mr. McCargar and Miss Hommy will begin coaching the junior high teams in the near future. The golf teams are playing in the Zone Competition next Wednesday. Team members include: Nicole Wilkins, Audrey Campbell, Denise Strange, Chris Shultz, Dallas Johnson, Cam Campbell, Ty Stabber, and Darren Klinck. Good luck!

Along with the sports' seasons, clubs are starting to meet. Mrs. Williams will host a sewing club after school on Tuesdays. Mrs. Robertson will be leading an aerobics group Tuesday and Thursdays after school. Mrs. Worsfold will begin organizing and choosing the Grad Committee members early next week. Karen Pottruff is looking for support in her work as this year's yearbook editor.

What else? Parents are welcome to come and meet the teachers at an open meeting next Thursday at 7:00 p.m. in the Didsbury High Library.

What's new? Mrs. Perrin is boasting of a new drama lighting system for the stage.

A last note. Friday morning Didsbury High participated in a Literacy Competition against Hannah. In doing so, we started the day with a reading from Mr. Taylor over the PA system.

As the saying goes . . . times change

Th familiar adage that "times change" has a different twist for visitors to the Royal Tyrrell Museum of Palaeontology near Drumheller.

After Labour Day, the provincially-operated museum changes to winter hours: open 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday. The Museum is closed Mondays, except for holidays.

The reduction in hours of operation marks the end of the Museum's "high" season, and true to its name, the five month period from April to August saw an 18% increase in the number of visitors to the Museum compared to 1991.

Open year-round, the Royal Tyrrell Museum will operate on its winter schedule until May of 1993.

A facility of Alberta Culture & Multiculturalism, the Royal Tyrrell Museum is located six kilometres northwest of Drumheller.

Old-fashioned threshing at Heritage Park!

Watch an authentic pioneer threshing demonstration on Sunday, September 20th as Heritage Park brings in the harvest just as it was done years ago.

The Park's antique threshing equipment weighs over 14 tons and is operated by a team of seven men. It consists of a 1916 Case steam engine, an antique threshing machine and a hayrack pulled by a team of heavy horses.

Weather permitting, the event runs from 1:30 p.m. to 2:30 in the Park's agricultural area.

Heritage Park is open weekends and holidays from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. through to October 12th (Thanksgiving Monday).

Minor hockey meeting a success

The September 2 general meeting of the Didsbury Minor Hockey Association proved successful when close to 50 concerned parents attended to discuss the upcoming hockey year for players.

Vance Van Dam, Association President, informed those present of the raise in ice fees for the upcoming year and the other expenses incurred during the year for the Association. He also explained that over the past years, the minor hockey association has been attempting to keep their cost increases to a near zero percentage, utilizing the reserves for extra expenses. However, because the reserves are being depleted and that only one third of the families concerned worked for fund raising projects, prices, in all divisions, have been increased. Players who will be hit the most will be in the Bantam and Midget division. However, at a later meeting the minor hockey executive has set up a program, whereby boys in these divisions can help defray their costs by working through the Referee Co-ordinator. Games in which they work will be credited towards their ice fees. However, these boys must take the referee clinics, pass the exams, and be prepared to work when called. Post dated cheques will be taken and once their fees have been worked off, then the cheque will be returned to them or their parents.

At the general meeting further news was updated by Vaughn Christensen regarding the new Highway 2 and 27 league for boys in the Tyke, Novice and this year in the Atom Division. This league consists of teams in Olds, Didsbury, Carstairs, Cremona, Crossfield, and Bowden. Parents expressed interest in having the Pee Wee division added to this league, but league officials present stated that their intent in the league was to build slowly and that a Pee Wee division may be added in the 1993-1994 season, should there be adequate teams to participate.

The big item for discussion was fund-raising and the people present were informed by the fundraising chairman that he was disappointed with the lack of parent support in the fundraising projects. Statistics showed that 35 out of approximately 90 families took part. It was reiterated to the parents that the Minor Hockey Association Executive can only do so much, and unless parents show more interest there is a chance that hockey would only be available for the elite. This year all parents will be asked to choose a committee on which they will help at registration time, and will be asked to participate on that committee when the need arises.

Tournaments will be run by the teams involved with members of the executive heading those committees.

Registration will be Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 15 and 16th, at the Didsbury Complex from 7 - 9 p.m. Those not registering on those nights will be charged an additional $20 for late fees. Any new registrants to the Association are asked to bring a copy of their birth certificate at the time of registration. Post dated cheques, on dates selected by the Rambler executive, are being allowed.

Brent Youngs has approached the executive with the purpose of running a conditioning camp prior to the formation of teams. The minor executive were in full favour of this project and details should be available at registration night. Rod Collinge and Marty Overguard have agreed to arrange for coaching staff and those wishing to participate are asked to attend at registration night and inform them of their intentions. A referee's clinic and a coaching clinic will be held in Didsbury and, once again, names can be submitted at registration nights to take part in these clinics.

Yard work

The CFL, what can we say,
Gets filled with more kicks every day.
Just when Stampeders think they're hot,
The Eskimos prove that they're not.
Sellouts, McMahon and Ivor Wynne,
At Taylor Field no more get in.
Arch rivals all around the place,
And every team is in the race.
The CFL, a year of fun,
Cheers mixed with tears for everyone.
Ya gotta love the league, high five,
Why, even B.C.'s come alive.
The CFL, let's cheer 'em on,
And help the negative, long gone.

Lawn bowling news

By A. Pringle

Even though the weather has not been always ideal for bowling, we have had many evenings of fun. The greens have improved immensely—thanks to the diligent work of Eamor, Ted and helpers.

Brian Pocock, Bob Veenstra, Bernice Blois and Annie Pringle represented Zone 2 at the Seniors Summer Games in Medicine Hat. Brian won a silver medal in singles.

On August 26 and 27 at Medicine Hat a team of men and a team of ladies competed in the Provincial Triples Playoff. The ladies with skip Agatha MacRae Betty Clouston and Kay Schumaker brought home the silver medal. Murray McRae, skip with Owen Clouston and Ray Schumaker won the bronze. Congratulations to all! We are proud of you.

Due to poor weather, no one participated in the Labor Day Bowling weekend in Medicine Hat. Better luck next year.

Winter is fast approaching and the caretakers are getting ready for the winterizing of the greens.

A wind-up party is planned—so watch for the Notice.

Southwest Didsbury news

By Bessie Eckstrand

Visiting at Don Webers last week was sister-in-law Esther & Ray Hutchinson and other relatives Anne & Roy Parker of Ontario.

Visitors from Germany were four friends of Henry & Ursula Kuelkers. They stayed for a few days last week and then motored to B.C. for a month's holiday.

New students on Fred Newsome's bus are Nicole (Grade 7) and Robert (Grade 8) Gooding, Mother and Dad are Trevor & Lorraine Gooding, who live southwest of Ev Tuggles. Also Crystal Whitecotton (Grade 10), Mother is Terri Iverson who purchased an acreage south of Gordon Robertsons. Kindergarten (E.C.S.): 1. Jordan Meyer, son of Danny and Wanda Meyer; 2. Cory McEwan, son of Collin & Debbie McEwan; 3. Charles Weber, son of Dennis & Wanda Weber who have moved their double wide onto parental farm of Cecil & Ebba Weber.

New students on Doreen McEwan's bus: 1. Tawnya Fauchers (a nephew) whose parents live and work on the David Shields' farm; 2. Daniel Forrestal—parents are Heather &

Brian Forrestal. Good luck young folks and hope you have an enjoyable, interesting and knowledgeable year.

Date To Note: First U.C.W. meeting of the fall season will be held at Knox Church on Sept. 22 at 1:30 p.m.

Area has reported having had hail frost, snow and flattened crops. Many trees were broken over as a result of the 3-4 inches of very wet snow. We wonder what else is in store for us this year. Seed is going to be at a premium with so many frozen crops. Certainly was a severe blow to the farmers.

Crime Stoppers

The Central Alberta Crime Stoppers Program is having a very good year. That's because the partnership between the general public, the community spirited media, and the police is working to solve crimes in central Alberta.

Crime Stoppers receives calls on a regular basis on such crimes as drug trafficking and cultivation, assaults, possession of weapons and stolen property, break-ins and thefts. So far this year as a result of the calls received to Crime Stoppers, there have been 40 arrests made and over $130,000 of drugs and stolen property recovered. THE PROGRAM WORKS!

Remember, if you have any information on any crimes, call Crime Stoppers now at 340-TIPS, that's 340-8477 or call toll free at 1-800-661-TIPS. The calls to Crime Stoppers are not traced or recorded and you never have to give your name or testify in court. Crime Stoppers will pay up to $2,000 for information leading to the arrest of suspects in any unsolved crime. Crime Stoppers serves all of Central Alberta.

Pool cleanup

Members of the BOP Society spent Saturday cleaning out items from the old indoor swimming pool complex. Articles such as lockers, toilets, signs, plumbing fixtures and more will be removed for auction to help raise funds for the new pool. BOP is looking for more volunteers to help with the dismantling. Work will be going on every night this week.

Proper identification

Mount View Health Unit notes

Diarrhea Can Be Deadly

Acute diarrhea is one of the most common illnesses in early childhood. Anyone who is the primary diaper changer is well aware of this.

First of all it is important to distinguish between acute and chronic diarrhea. A child who soils more than one diaper a day and has very loose bowel movements on an ongoing basis would fall into the chronic category. Acute diarrhea is usually accompanied by vomiting and fever. It comes on quickly and the infant will show signs of ill health (crankiness, disturbed activity patterns).

Acute diarrhea, although common, is not to be taken lightly. In the United States, approximately 500 deaths a year are a result of the dehydration caused by acute diarrhea. In the past, this condition was treated by giving clear fluids such as water, juice, pop, jello and soup. It has been found that not only does this practice not help, it may further aggravate the diarrhea.

When one is dehydrated, as in the case of acute diarrhea, the electrolytes are out of balance.

Electrolytes are charged atoms of minerals such as sodium, potassium, and chloride. The objective of treatment is to bring them back into balance.

The best method of treatment available today is to use specially prepared products available in pharmacies under advice of your doctor. These commercially prepared products are referred to as oral-rehydration therapy fluids. They are to be used only in cases of dehydration brought on by vomiting and diarrhea, with your doctor's advice.

As soon as possible, feeding is to be started. A normal variety of foods is recommended. Food hastens recovery, improves nutritional health and lessens the severity of repeat episodes of diarrhea.

For more information on infant diarrhea, talk to your physician or Community Health Nurse. Wendy Benson, R.D. is the Community Nutritionist at Mount View Health Unit.

Life Line news

By A. Pringle

Tuesday, Sept. 8, the Life Line committee met at 9:30 a.m. in the Town Office Board Room.

It was reported that we have 28 clients receiving this service.

Pres. Anne Milne and Evelyn Clark had attended the Life Line Workshop in Red Deer. Both found it interesting and informative. There had been good representation from the various areas of the province. The by-laws were discussed and will be updated. The Town of Hinton had written requesting information with regards to our operation. It was also decided to advertise locally and so make the public aware of this service.

This is a service not only for seniors but anyone with a handicap who may find themselves in the position of needing assistance such as when they fall and are unable to get up, or are wheelchair bound and unable to manipulate themselves out of a problem.

Everyone is welcome to attend these meetings every three months at 10 a.m. on a Tuesday.

Our next meeting is Dec. 8 at Town Office. See you there.

From Wilbur Smith's Elephant Song, "The rangers closed in, firing steadily. Within minutes all the adult animals were down. Only the calves still raced in bewildered circles, stumbling over the bodies of the dead and dying. Six minutes after the first shot, a silence fell over the killing ground on Long Vlei. . ."

"Now the time has come to act. Together, Armstrong and Kinnear forge a passionate alliance--and begin the fight against the forces of greed, evil and corruption attacking a land they would both give their lives to save. . . Combining breathtaking realism and thrilling suspense, the new adventure from the world's master storyteller is a journey deep into the heart of a wild, magnificent continent, threatened forever by the destructive hand of man."
